The Mojo CSI Bag (Casualty Sensitive Items) is designed for storing casualty sensitive items during the evacuation phase of Tactical Combat Casualty Care. The small vacuum sealed packaging makes it easy to store with a litter, backboard, or in a medical evacuation aid-bag. Made out of a durable light weight nylon material it is strong enough to hold up to 100lbs while the two shoulder straps, with reinforced stitching, will allow for adequate support while carrying. The flexible drawstring with clasp keeps the sensitive items secure and the attached label provides space to write the casualty's name, unit and list of equipment. Additional Velcro has been placed next to the name label for a call-sign patch or name tape.
