SmartTriage™ provides solutions at stage two of a military multiple casualty incident response. The role of early command can often feel overwhelming as initial casualty figures outnumber your available resources and critical time-pressured decisions must be made.

This equipment is used as standard on all NATO major incident medical management system courses (MIMMS).

Key tasks of accurate communications, secondary triage, setting up a Casualty Clearing Station and delegating command roles are all covered in this solution:

SmartTriage™ Commander

Acts as a military mobile command point, providing a structured response to the incident. Perfect for the first commander on-scene.
